

the bone that citizens are exasperated and the stringing of the town of troops, the town ought to be taken by Mexican sympathizers in El Paso.

Troop C of the Thirteenth Cavalry and the Second Battalion, of the same regiment, have been ordered to El Paso from Columbus, N. M., to strengthen the El Paso garrison. The order was issued to-night, and the men are to move at once by train.

A great military ball was to be given by citizens of El Paso to-night to the officers of the Second, Thirteenth and Nineteenth Cavalry and the Sixth Artillery, but an order was issued to all officers to remain with their commands because of probability that they might be needed to meet emergency.

Fuel Shortage Serious.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Mexico City, November 22.—The shortage of fuel is becoming a more serious problem than the stringency of economy and parsimony of the sons of Mexico. It is the result of every effort to suppress the rebels in vicinity of Mexia, who have threatened to cut off the fuel oil supply of the National Guard.

The local manager of the Pearson Syndicate has decided to pay no attention to the message from General Aguirre, who has asked the Texan to withdraw a ransom for the release of the Pearson oil properties and ordering the removal from the district of all technicians in the employ of the company.

The latest scheme of the government in raising money is the establishment of an immense laboratory to the manufacture of medicines, which will be marketed by the government. The doctors on all the popular remedies have been increased to such a figure that the Mexican dealers claim it is to be cleared for government ownership of the business. The Mexican newspapers declare that the purpose of the move is to make such medicines available to the people at a lower rate than it has been possible to obtain them heretofore.

In reply to-day published the proposed program of Mr. Smith, editor of the article published in the same paper yesterday attacking the American representatives for presuming to ask for the return of the oil properties of the colonel in land case, the plaintiff Colomar, being an American, who claims he has been deprived of his rights and has been denied of his compensation granted to the Pearson com-

Strong Effects in Black and White

Are leading this season in Business Suits.

Dark material with white or gray stripes--also check. We have 'em--have you?

Prices, $15 to $40.

In Shirts, Neckwear and Socks the same black and white designs are Fashion's favorites--all here.

For a change--to brighten up a bit--suits in odd mixtures that are sure winners.

Overcoats in fancy weaves, too.

Your every wish in clothes is here.

O. H. Berry & Co.

agent, William Bayard Hale, remained in Nagasaki.

The entire party plans to leave to-morrow for Hermosillo, and after a short stay there, continue south to engage in the projected campaign in Sonora.

Committees Appointed.

Mexico City, November 22.—The Chamber of Deputies adopted the details of organization to-night, appointing house committees.

In the lobbies and at the National Palace the idea prevailed that President Huerta is fixed in his determination to permit the new Congress to continue and is planning to carry out his program for pacification of the country.

Warship Leaves Tuxpan.

Vera Cruz, November 22.—The United States battleship New Hampshire arrived here from Tuxpan to-day. She will take on coal and provisions and will return Monday.

May Attempt to Seize Port.

Vera Cruz, November 22.—It is understood here to-night that the authorities at Washington have required Rear Admiral Fletcher to say immediately how many men will be required to take this port.

WOMAN CONFESSES SHE KILLED FIELD

(Continued from First Page.)

milling methods either. They're just easy. All men are for that matter."

Discredited in Chileno.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Chileno, November 22.—The story from Los Angeles, Cal., to-night to the effect that a woman named Vera Scott had confessed that she had killed Marshall Field, Jr., is discredited in this city.

Not only are hundreds of men and horses said to have been killed and wounded, but the wreckage of cars and engines and all manner of equipment is to be a bar to further progress by the Federals.

Blown Up By Dynamite

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) El Paso, Texas, November 22.—Advices have been received in this city to-night from Chileno that General Villa has received word from his scouts to the effect that two trainloads of Federal cavalry, estimated at 1,200 men, were sent over mountains to attack Chileno, Central, sixty miles south of Juarez. The reports said that the trains had been equipped with dynamite mines, which were planted under the rails and exploded by means of electrically charged wires which had been strung along the ground to distract the rebels.

Not only are hundreds of men and horses said to have been killed and wounded, but the wreckage of cars and engines and all manner of equipment is to be a bar to further progress by the Federals.

Attack on Pinchot

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Washington, November 22.—An attack upon Gifford Pinchot, for settling the dispute between the conventionists and the revolutionaries, has been turned into a farce by the insistence upon the adoption of a resolution endorsing Federal control of water power sites as made in the House by Representative Johnson. Representatives of this great organization find it impossible to tell where their position stands. That the action was taken to prevent the election of Johnson is clear, but the real question is whether the conventionists should be allowed to do so.

The other side of the story is that

Johnson is to be a bar to further progress by the Federals.

LIST OF SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED.

Good Time Assured for Carolina During Coming Year.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Chapel Hill, November 22.—A partial list of the speakers that will deliver lectures to the student body during the coming year follows:

The list includes: Richard Thomas, Wyche, president of the National Story-Tellers League; Dr. D. H. Hill, president of the A. & M. College; Dr. Woods Hutchinson, medical specialist; and Dr. Joseph Holmes, director of the National Bureau of Mines.

Hoy Killed by Shotgun.

Salisbury, N. C., November 22.—By the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of H. H. McKinley, a thirteen-year-old white boy, negro boy of the same age was killed at Jamestown, Wayne County, Thursday.

The killing occurred in the home of George Hendrix, and was witnessed by W. W. Hodges, Negro boy.

The parents of the McKinley boy are visiting in West Virginia and were notified of the accident.

Deserted As Burial-ground.

Juarez, Mexico, November 22.—It is asserted here to-night that the rebels have slaughtered the last train load of Federals and are waiting for more, while Federal agents in El Paso assert that the rebels, who went south to fight, have abandoned the idea and headed by Pancho Villa, their leader, are making a steady advance country to Chileno, Central, fifteen miles away. The rebel Garrison left Juarez, remains calm but watchful. That fighting has been in progress throughout the day is known. How many have been killed is unknown. Villa himself went south this morning when the first fighting opened, reconnoitered and considered the conditions so critical that he returned and took every available man from Juarez to throw against the Federals this afternoon. He was in personal command of his army when the last of his fighters left Juarez at 2 o'clock.

To-night the rebels left in Juarez to guard the city claim that their men have slaughtered the last train load of Federals and are waiting for more, while Federal agents in El Paso assert that the rebels, who went south to fight, have abandoned the idea and headed by Pancho Villa, their leader, are making a steady advance country to Chileno, Central, fifteen miles away. The rebel Garrison left Juarez, remains calm but watchful. That fighting has been in progress throughout the day is known. How many have been killed is unknown. Villa himself went south this morning when the first fighting opened, reconnoitered and considered the conditions so critical that he returned and took every available man from Juarez to throw against the Federals this afternoon. He was in personal command of his army when the last of his fighters left Juarez at 2 o'clock.

Pancho Villa, who just a week ago captured Juarez, has now entrenched in a deep ravine, strategic immediately treated to give battle outside the city to the approaching Federals and hastened south shortly before noon with 2,000 men. He left them and won back in two hours issuing orders for his entire command, with the exception of the "Juarez Brigade," composed of men recruited here, to advance to the front. By 2 o'clock this afternoon Villa and 5,000 men had left Juarez, either on trains over the Mexican Central Railroad or on horseback. Four machine guns and the cavalry division, second in command, the trains under personal command of Villa, detrained ten miles south of Juarez, where they were joined by the cavalry and the machine guns.

Advancing in fan shape along each side of the Mexican Central, the rebels moved south, their field pieces being carried on the trains, ready for use when needed.

The men left Juarez under the command of Juan Nunez, chief of staff to Villa, their last southward bound for the city as night came on and waited. Reports of various kinds came back to Juarez and to El Paso. At 6 o'clock to-night the rebels claimed that they had wreaked and surrounded the advance train of Federal troops and virtually annihilated them. The Federals say this train contained 2,000 men.

BOTH ONLINE SUCCESS.

At the same time the rebels laid claim to the victory. Federal agents in El Paso declared that the rebels, after detaining south of Juarez instead of remaining to battle, discovered the strength of the Federal army, and retreated southward in the direction of Casas Grandes, leaving their men in Juarez to care for themselves as best they could. The Federal agents claim that the advancing soldiers of Huerta number 3,000 men with forty now is the time to buy.

The day that dawns clear, cold and crisp is the day to put on Furs, not the day to have to go down town and buy them. If you have Furs to get by all means buy them now.

Furs for every taste. If you want something exclusive we invite you to come in tomorrow and see our special values.

Remodeling—and Furs made to order.

FURS

Now is the time to buy.

The day that dawns clear, cold and crisp is the day to put on Furs, not the day to have to go down town and buy them. If you have Furs to get by all means buy them now.

Furs for every taste. If you want something exclusive we invite you to come in tomorrow and see our special values.

Remodeling—and Furs made to order.

H. Pinchesky & Son,
209 Arcade Building,
Foushee Street, Between Broad and Grace.

Formerly 317 E. Broad St.

Formerly 317 E. Broad St.